ARCHIVIO

Tanks to the Popup Festival, the train station of Fabriano can enjoy a wonderful work of 3ttman. "It is called 'The Evolution Chain' and has its name indicates, is a new version (scientifically proved and irrefutable) of Darwin theory! This is the never ending story of human... stupidity." -artist quote-

It was amazing meet the artist, see him excited about this “cool” spot in Fabriano, and talk with him about the meaning of the work.

The mural represents the chain of human evolution, a Tree chained with a Dinosaur, which in turn is chained with a Monkey drinking from a cup, chained with Adam and Eve, she, the only one to look back in the opposite direction, giving a higher importance to the only female figure of the work. Then the chain traps an ambiguous figure: a Bird. But what is most interesting (for me) is: everything starts and ends with an armed robot that shoots in the direction of the tree; “ the apex ” of technology, destroy the past to start a new cycle.

So thank 3ttman, now travelers who pass here will have something deep to meditate.
